

Head of School Compensation Survey
Back by popular demand!

From 2003 to 2007 the Search Group at CS&A conducted a very successful Head of School compensation survey. The subsequent "Compensation Trends Report" became a valuable resource to both Heads and their boards for determining win-win compensation packages. To this day, we still receive requests for this kind of compensation reporting -- so it is with great pleasure that we announce the launch of our 2011-2012 compensation survey and report.

In the coming weeks, we will be reaching out to Heads with a link to our survey which should take 15 -20 minutes to complete. Once we have achieved a statistically viable collection of responses we will release the compensation trends report free of charge to all participants.

For those seeking a more detailed consultation, tailored around your own school community, we provide a compensation consulting service with custom reports to better understand local and regional trends affecting your school.

We are proud to again offer this useful service to schools and expect this year to be the largest sampling of Head compensation data we've ever collected.
