Overview

Friends School is a Quaker, college-preparatory school, Pre-K through Grade 12, in Baltimore City, enrolling 802 students of all genders, 46% of whom identify as children of color. We are guided by the Quaker ideals of simplicity, peace, integrity, community, equality, and stewardship. We strive to be a purposefully inclusive community that reflects the racial, ethnic, cultural, gender, socioeconomic, and religious diversity of our city and our region.

Mission

Friends School of Baltimore is a Quaker school that exists to foster in young people the skills, knowledge, and habits of mind needed to partner with their communities and to be courageous change-makers in the world. We believe education is a journey, a continual seeking after truth that relies on both inward reflection and outward connection with others, especially across lines of difference. At Friends, learning is grounded in relationships and deepened by application to the world beyond our campus. Our School is guided by the testimonies of simplicity, peace, integrity, community, equality, and stewardship, and our core belief that there is that of God in each person, and we understand these testimonies and this belief to be a call to justice. We value diversity, pursue equity, and strive to be an actively inclusive institution that works against systemic oppression, within a campus community where each individual can live out their full identities. We seek in all ways to exemplify the ideals of the Religious Society of Friends.

Qualifications and Skills

Friends School of Baltimore seeks an individual who is able to foster sustained and challenging conversation and action on topics such as race, ethnicity, gender identity, family composition, sexuality, socioeconomic difference, neurodiversity, and ableness. Quaker communities have a long and proud tradition of embracing the tension of complex subjects like these in order to bring about greater understanding and more effective action. The measure of the Director's success, therefore, will be the cultivation - rather than the elimination - of these tensions into honest, productive, and respectful discourse that flows across campus and into the greater community. The ideal candidate will have strong written and oral expression skills, a comfort with exploration and ambiguity, a compassionate heart, and a curious and open mind. The ability to develop and oversee multiple programs simultaneously is essential.

- Bachelor's degree required, with an advanced degree preferred.
- Candidates should demonstrate a willingness to understand and incorporate Quaker principles and Quaker education into their work.

Educators at Friends are expected to model and foster the habits of mind we believe are essential to an outstanding education: creativity, curiosity, empathy, reflection, and resilience. We seek educators whose teaching styles and experiences demonstrate the following:

- A desire to understand diverse attitudes, beliefs, behaviors, and practices and to incorporate a culturally responsive lens into teaching and learning.
- A record of successful collaboration with colleagues, families, and students.
- A commitment to lifelong learning, and ongoing professional development.
- An ability to infuse technology to enhance student learning.
- An openness to interdisciplinary teaching.
- An appreciation for and understanding of the social and emotional development of students.
- Flexibility, empathy, and vision.

Competitive salary and generous benefits are offered.
